Family Memberships

Children under 18 who reside with the primary member are included with membership. They must be accompanied by the primary member at all times. Additional family members over 18 who reside in the same household as the primary member can be added for $25 per month.

Initiation Period

Upon receipt of the first membership payment, new members will be scheduled for an orientation class. This class provides basic information about the hackerspace, security procedures, administrative procedures, and other information necessary to ensure the facility and equipment are maintained and preserved for all members to use. These orientation classes will be held approximately monthly. Once this class is completed, the member will be issued their access cards and have unfettered access to the space.

Hardship Considerations

On occasion, a member or prospective member may not have the financial means to maintain their membership. These members may petition the board of directors, or a committee as designated by the board, for an In Kind Membership equivalent to the Basic Individual Membership Level. The petition must include the amount the member is able to pay, the number of hours they are able to volunteer per month, and the length of time they are requesting consideration (not to exceed six months). Upon approval, the board will assign volunteer responsibilities to the member. In Kind memberships are contingent upon maintaining their volunteer status as agreed and is subject to the same rules and restrictions as other members unless amended by the BOD at the time of approval.

By purchasing your membership to Inspiration Labs, you are supporting the development of the first public hackerspace in Tampa Bay. We are currently organized as a non-profit corporation in the state of Florida with a 501c(3) status.

Your dues help pay essential expenses such as rent, equipment, maintenance, programs, insurance, government fees and the filing of tax returns.

Remaining funds will be held in reserve to fund costs for expansion and a provide for a contingency fund. We occasionally hire help for grant fulfillment activities but have no paid employees helping to maintain the space and our board of directors are unpaid volunteers. We publish an annual budget which may be amended per our bylaws.

Please make checks payable to either Tampa Hackerspace or Inspiration Labs, Inc. If you prefer to pay by online subscription, we have an account established at paypal.com. Please note that online payments cost us up to 3% per transaction in processing fees.

Keyholders are subject to background checks as a security precaution.

Memberships are non-refundable.
